

2024 Private Equity Internship

Position Description

GP Investments is seeking a Private Equity Intern for its São Paulo office. Interns will work with other team members in a collaborative and dynamic environment, gaining exposure to multiple industries, research techniques, and data analysis tools.

The intern's main responsibilities are:

- Researching, analyzing and evaluating potential investment targets, both in the private and public equity spaces;
- Managing extensive spreadsheets, building models, and performing quantitative analyses;
- Preparing presentations, writing reports, and effectively communicating research findings to a varied audience;
- Participating in various projects across the organization.

Qualifications

- Expected graduation between December 2024 and December 2025
- Fluency in English
- Proficiency in MS Office
- Basic knowledge of Financial Modelling
- Strong analytical and communication skills
- Solid work ethic and ability to work both independently and in small groups

About GP Investments

GP Investments is a leading private equity and alternative investments firm. Since its founding in 1993, it has completed investments in more than 50 companies, and executed over 35 equity capital market transactions.

Our firm is best known for its deep involvement with its portfolio companies and a distinctive managerial model. This model's cornerstone is a culture that emphasizes values such as meritocracy, ownership, trust, and a ceaseless commitment to achieving results. We seek to build long-lasting enterprises by putting in place strong governance, strategic leadership, cost consciousness, the right incentives, and a strong team.

Extensive 30-year Track Record

